Dear [redacted]

For the past week I have intended to transmit to you the attached copy of Pete's evaluation of the Angel. I have gone over the report in detail with Pete and have discussed parts of it with Al.

I wish to emphasize that although several recommendations have been made, Al said that these recommendations should not detract from our planned operational readiness date.

I think it would be to our advantage to give this report serious consideration for the other phase of the program. I feel that after we get organized with a project office for this second phase, many of the recommendations will turn into fixed requirements. In this respect I would hope that you will take action on these simple items.

During my next visit with you I would be pleased to go over each comment in detail and agree as to preparation of a joint reply to the attached report. I hope that we can accomplish this task early in December.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
Colonel, USAF
